LUKOIL SPONSORS SOCCER CAMP OF SPARTAK ACADEMY IN KOGALYM

The city of Kogalym (Khanty-Mansi Autonomous District - Yugra) hosts a football training camp for young football players, the Spartak Camp, initiated by President of LUKOIL Vagit Alekperov. It is the second time the summer camp is organized here under the leadership of coaches of the Fyodor Cherenkov Spartak Academy: Vitaly Koulev, Alexandr Semyonov, Viktor Samokhin and Vadim Romantsev, son of the red-and-whites' famous coach Oleg Romantsev.

One of Russia's strongest football schools will help children aged 6 to 13 to develop their skills in the sport. All the 120 residents of the camp will be provided with professional gear.

Information:
The Oil Company LUKOIL began sponsoring the Spartak Moscow FC in 2000. During that period, the football club won three golds, five silvers and one bronze award of the National Championships. Also, Spartak is the winner of Russia's Cup and Super Cup, and a participant in the Champions' League and the UEFA Europa League.
