PRESS SERVICE STATEMENT

Starting from today, Leonid Fedun, who held a post of Vice President for Strategic Development of PJSC LUKOIL, has left his position due to achievement of retirement age, as well as familial reasons.

"Leonid Fedun was a key person in the history of LUKOIL, one of those who led the Company to its current position of one of the largest in the world energy sector. He anticipated many upcoming trends in the industry, which were reflected in LUKOIL's strategic plans. On behalf of the entire LUKOIL team, I would like to thank Leonid Fedun for many years of co-working and wish him all the best in his new beginnings," said Vadim Vorobyov, President of LUKOIL.
