LUKOIL DEVELOPS CO-OPERATION WITH FORD SOLLERS

OOO LLK-International (a fully owned subsidiary of PSJC LUKOIL) and Ford Sollers Joint Venture have signed an agreement providing for the supply of LUKOIL GENESIS oils for the first fill of Ford engines to be manufactured this year at the new Ford Sollers Plant in Elabuga. The oils have been developed in full compliance with the Ford requirements and possess high performance level including fuel efficiency.

“Participating in the foreign auto concern localization program is one of the indisputable priorities of the LLK-International business. Supporting the program we not only invest in the scientific and technical potential of the Russian lubricant industry but also contribute towards the successful development of the vehicle manufacturing industry in the country and its higher competitive ability”, stressed out Maxim Donde, General Director of LLK-International.

Ford Sollers already uses LUKOIL fuels for the first fill at all its factories in Russia (in Vsevolzhsk, Elabuga and Naberezhnye Chelny). Expanding co-operation with LUKOIL will allow to totally meet the needs of Ford Sollers Joint Venture in combustibles and lubricants.
